GOSSIPY PARAGRAPHS.

Theatrical And Otherwise—Remarks In The Foyer.

Not now does the Paris maid look to see where her tolu wad is; She's too engrossed to leave her book—For she's buried in "Quo Vadis."

Mr. Clay Clement and his excellent company of players thoroughly delighted a large and fashionable audience with a perfect production of that beautiful pastoral, "The New Dominion," Saturday night at the Grand opera house. There is little that is new to be said of the play, which is chaste and charming, simple and beautiful. Mr. Clement's impersonation of the gentle, scholarly German nobleman, Von Hohenstaufen, was better—if possible, than on former visits, and he was forced to acknowledge half a dozen curtain calls and make a speech. Miss Karra Kenwyn (Mrs. Clement) is just as handsome and clever as of yore in the attractive role of Josephine Dulaney, and won new admirers. Mr. Jeffrey Williams was excellent as Marshal Boner, as was Mr. Frank Aiken as Norman Elgar Randolph, and Thos. O'Malley as Napoleon Randolph. Miss Nell McEwan made a dainty and pretty Flora May Randolph and filled the part most acceptably. Miss Gertrude O'Malley played the part of Martha very well indeed, and Miss Annie Filbourne and W. B. Mack also gave good support. Paris theatre-goers will give Mr. Clement a royal welcome in his new play, "A Southern Gentleman."

PETERS AND GREEN.

The Knoxville Tribune says of the Peters & Green Company [which appears at the opera house] Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee: "There was not decent standing room at the theatre last night. The occasion was the first appearance of the Peters & Green Comedy Company, and every one got the worth of his money and something to spare. The entire company is up-to-date in every respect and the bill last night was bang up. It was an Irish farce, and side-splitting from the time the curtain rose to the end of the last act."

"Peters and Green are up far on the ladder in comedy work and they have surrounded themselves with an excellent company of people whose work is first class."

The company as a whole is conceded to be the best popular price company that ever held the boards at Staub's by everyone who saw the performance of last night.

Jersey City has probably the only church dancing class in America. It numbers sixty members and is taught by Rev. John Stoddard, pastor of St. John's Church, who organized the class just to show that dancing was not improper. His class meets every Thursday night. Rev. Stoddard's specialties are the two-step and polka-mazurka, and the terms are $1 for eight lessons. Over 100 persons want to join the class.

Creston Clark, the splendid young actor who gave a fine performance here some time ago in "The Last of His Race," plays to-morrow night in Danville, and Friday night and Saturday afternoon in Lexington.

E. H. Sothern was born in New Orleans, but was taken when three years old to England where he was educated. His wife, Virginia Harned, is a Virginia girl.

Giles Shine, who is known to many Parisians, is playing the role of Richelieu in "Under The Red Robe," this week, at Louisville.

Wilton Lackaye and Frederick Warde have closed their tours at Chicago. Not enough money coming in and too much going out.

The Rev. John Talbott, a priest, of New York, has written a play called "The Black Cardinal."

Elita Proctor Otis will soon revive "Oliver Twist," assuming the role of Nancy Sikes.

DELINQUENT TAXES.

All persons who have not paid their poll-tax for 1897 are notified to call at the Sheriff's office and settle same and save costs.
